Laraway Honors Martin Luther King, Jr.'s legacy with a day of service

Johnson-based Laraway Youth & Family Services' staff fanned out across Lamoille County on January 20th, volunteering at numerous non-profits. Staff members delivered meals, painted, cleaned and organized materials, and visited with young children and seniors.

"Martin Luther King, Jr. Day is synonymous with service at Laraway. This is our way to give back to a community that supports our work with at-risk children and youth," said Katherine Stamper, Laraway Development Director. "It also allows staff members to get to know each other across program areas, strengthening our connections as colleagues."

Agencies Laraway partnered with include: Lamoille Family Center, Meals on Wheels, RSVP, The Manor, Johnson Historical Society, Morrisville Food Bank and Lamoille County Court Diversion Restorative Justice Program, Inc.
